

The Metropolitan Partners

The Metropolitan Partners are elected officials, regional business alliances and civic groups, university presidents, and practitioners from metro areas around the country who are serving as active advisors and supporters of the Blueprint for American Prosperity. These Partners are individuals and institutions widely recognized as being change agents both in their metropolitan areas and nationally. The Metropolitan Policy Program at Brookings would like to thank the Blueprint Metropolitan Partners for their energy and leadership in advancing the goals of the Blueprint for American Prosperity. They embody the innovation behind this effort.
