

WILLIAM JOHN ANTHOLIS

The Brookings Institution
1775 Massachusetts Ave NW
Washington, DC 20036
202.797.6491
wantholis@brookings.edu

502 2nd St. NE
Charlottesville, VA 22902
434.244.3452
antholis@hotmail.com

EDUCATION

Yale University, Ph.D., Department of Political Science. New Haven, CT. 1993.

- Field exams in Political Theory, American Government, Contemporary Theory; highest honors all fields.
- “Liberal Democratic Theory and the Transformation of Sovereignty.” 1994 top nominee of the Yale Political Science Department for American Political Science Association’s political theory dissertation award.
- Teaching Assistant: Political Theory, American Constitutional Law, International Relations

University of Virginia, B.A. Dept. of Government and Foreign Affairs. Charlottesville, VA. 1986.

- Phi Beta Kappa, Magna Cum Laude, Undergraduate Honors, winner of the Stephenson Prize for undergraduate thesis.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

The Brookings Institution, Managing Director: Washington DC. May 2007-present.

The Brookings Institution, Director of Strategic Planning: Washington DC. September 2004-May 2007.

- Responsible for managing the implementation of the Strategic Plan for the nation’s preeminent think-tank.
- Works collaboratively with the Institution’s President, Vice Presidents, Center Directors, Senior Fellows, and Board of Trustees.
- Responsibilities include aligning the Institution’s programs with its core mission and strategic priorities; identifying, developing, and implementing initiatives, especially interdisciplinary and cross-program ones; managing joint projects and partnerships with other think tanks, universities and NGOs; establishing and administering advisory, fundraising and outreach mechanisms in support of research programs; and assessing and responding to competitive challenges and collaborative opportunities.
- Projects have included developing and implementing the Institution’s mechanisms for maintaining quality, impact, and independence; overseeing a review of the communications operations and website redevelopment; overseeing the search and hiring of three Vice Presidents; helping launch a new policy center on the global economy; building and launching a new International Advisory Council.

German Marshall Fund of the United States,

Director of Studies and Senior Transatlantic Fellow: Washington DC. Sept. 2001-Sept. 2004.

Resident Fellow: Washington, DC. August 2000-July 2001.

- Director of the Transatlantic Fellows Program, GMF’s in-house think tank covering the full range of foreign economic and security policy issues. Oversee the research of 15 fellows in three GMF offices. Also oversee the annual Research Fellowship Award for academic research on European affairs.

- Project director for The Trade and Poverty Forum, a global working group which has issued recommendations for how to address poverty through trade and investment. Chairpersons include Robert Rubin (Citicorp), Luiz Lampreia (former Foreign Minister, Brazil), Dominique Strauss-Kahn (Deputy, National Assembly of France), Cyril Ramaphosa (South Africa), Dr. Shoichiro Toyoda (Honorary Chair, Toyota Motor Company, Japan), and Rahul Bajaj (Chairman and CEO of Bajaj Auto, India).
- Designed and oversaw conferences on U.S.-European attitudes toward globalization and innovation.
- Authored several articles, op eds, and essays on international trade and development issues, as well as two project reports of the Trade and Poverty Forum.

Princeton University, Resident Fellow: Center of International Studies, Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. Princeton, NJ, September 1999-July 2000.

- Author of working paper on reforming international institutions.
- Funded by the Council on Foreign Relations and the German Marshall Fund of the U.S.

U.S. Department of State, Director of the Office of Policy Analysis: Bureau of Economic Affairs. Washington, DC, December 1998-May 1999.

- Directed a planning office for emerging international economic issues such as information technology, corruption, public investment in emerging markets, and trade disputes over labor and environmental standards.
- Member of State Department team responsible for developing a response to financial crises in Brazil, Russia, Argentina. Also responsible for design policies to assist economies recovering from the 1997 Asian Financial Crisis.
- Worked on early strategies for WTO negotiations, including Chinese accession in 1999.

The White House, Director of International Economic Affairs: National Security Council and National Economic Council. Washington, DC, Jan. 1997 – Dec. 1998. (On secondment from State Dept.)

- Principal policy advisor and staff coordinator for G-7/G-8 affairs, including planning and negotiations for the Denver Summit (June 1997) and Birmingham Summit (May 1998).
- Deputy Director, White House Climate Change Task Force, helped coordinate administration-wide team at Kyoto and Buenos Aires negotiations of the UN Intergovernmental Convention on Climate Change (1997-1998).
- Senior advisor on a number of other international negotiations, including on trade agreements and on international environmental agreements.

Policy Planning Staff, U.S. Department of State, Special Advisor: Washington, DC, June 1995-Jan. 1997.

- Coordinated staff efforts for Director of Policy Planning, James B. Steinberg.

- Responsible for global affairs issue portfolio, including international crime, terrorism, weapons proliferation, environmental issues, conflict resolution and prevention, democracy and human rights, foreign assistance.
- Projects included helping design and coordinate State Department contributions to President's National Security Strategy (ongoing); Annual State Department Report on Terrorism (ongoing); U.S. diplomatic efforts for the 50th Anniversary of the United Nations (September 1995); Dayton Peace Negotiations for Bosnia (September/October 1995); Secretary's Preventive Action Initiative (January 1996); Secretary Christopher's involvement in Lyons G-7 Summit (June 1996); State Department contributions to Secretary's initiative to integrate environment into the State Department (September 1996); Secretary Christopher's recommendations for Second Term Foreign Policy (November 1996); Transition papers for Secretary Albright (December 1996).

Syracuse University, Washington Program, Adjunct Professor of International Politics: Washington, DC, January 1996-December 1996.

- Taught one undergraduate course each semester on global affairs, covering security, economics and politics.

Center for National Policy, Senior Research Associate: Washington, DC, September 1993-June 1995.

- Projects included: US National Interests in a Global Context; Population, Prosperity, and National Security; Task Force on Community Building in Troubled Urban Neighborhoods. Also researched international migration and immigration; principles of American foreign policy; U.S. foreign assistance.

Civic Education Project, Co-Founder and Director: New Haven, CT, November 1990-May 1992.

- Launched a non-profit organization, placing social science professors and doctoral candidates in one-year lecturer positions in east central European universities. Oversaw the development of curricula during the project's formative years. In 1996-7, CEP sponsored 130 lecturers at over 60 universities in Albania, the Baltic States, Bulgaria, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Moldova, Poland, Romania, Russia and Ukraine. Annual budget: $2.7 million. Currently serve on the Board of Directors.

REPORTS, ARTICLES, PAPERS, LECTURES

Trade and Poverty Forum: 2005 Report; German Marshall Fund of the United States, April 2005, co-editor with Kareem Saleh.

“Trade, Development and Democracy: There is a way, but is there a will?” International Economy, Fall 2004.

“Who Killed Cancun?” Lecture presented to the Confederation of Indian Industries (Delhi); the Keidanren (Tokyo); the Aspen Institute (Washington, DC); IFRI (Paris); autumn 2003.

“Towards a Democratic World Trading System: Four Challenges for the WTO,” in Doha Development Agenda: A Global View, ed. T.K.Bhaumik (Delhi: Confederation of Indian Industries, 2003)

“What to do about Global Governance? Priorities for the Evian G-8 Summit,” Conference Paper, Institut du Developpement Durables et des Relations Internationales, Paris, 13-14 April, 2003. Co-authored with Craig Kennedy.

“Restoring Trust in the WTO: The Challenge for Cancun,” Trade and Poverty Forum: First Report of the Co-Chairs, Project Director, September 1, 2003.

“Bush's Opportunity on Climate,” Washington Post, February 13, 2001. Co-authored with Todd Stern.

“Pragmatic Engagement or Photo Op: What Will the G-8 Become?” The Washington Quarterly, Volume 24, Issue 3 / Summer 2001.

“Kyoto Climate Debate Heats Up,” Financial Times, October 24, 2000. Co-authored with Daniel Benjamin.

“John Locke and the Oxymoron of Popular Sovereignty,” Conference Paper, American Political Science Association Convention, August 1994.

“The Imperfect Democratic Peace of Ancient Greece,” in Grasping the Democratic Peace: Principles for a Post-Cold War World, (Princeton: Princeton University Press, 1993). Co-authored with Bruce Russett.

"Do Democracies Fight Each Other? Evidence from the Peloponnesian War," Journal of Peace Research 29 (1992) pp. 415-434, Co-authored with Bruce Russett.