

---

Contents

1	Introduction Dennis Blair	1
2	Characteristics of and Influences on the Armed Forces during Democratic Transition in Latin America Juan Emilio Cheyre	11
3	Argentina: A Transition without Conditions Julio Hang	48
4	Chile: Transition toward the Subordination of the Military Juan C. Salgado Brocal	67
5	From War to Peace in El Salvador: The Military Transition Humberto Corado Figueroa	82
6	Military and Democratic Development in Asia: A Complex Narrative Muthiah Alagappa	93
7	The Military and Democratic Reform in Indonesia Rizal Sukma	113
8	The Military in Democratic Development: A Philippine Case Study Raymundo B. Ferrer and Carolina G. Hernandez	139

9	The Armed Forces and Democratic Development in Thailand Suchit Bunbongkarn	165
10	Sub-Saharan Africa: Decolonization to Multiparty Democracy and the Challenges of Transforming Military Institutions Martin Rupiya	188
11	Civil-Military Relations and Democratic Consolidation in Nigeria: Issues and Challenges Ecoma Alaga and Richard Akum	215
12	Civil-Military Relations in Senegal Biram Diop	236
13	South Africa: Transition of the Armed Forces from Apartheid to Multiparty Democracy Martin Rupiya	257
14	Democracy and Armed Forces in Europe and Eurasia Matthew Rhodes	274
15	The Role of Foreign Advisers in the Process of Hungarian Defense Reform Vilmos Hamikus	300
16	The Military Transition: Democratic Reform of the Spanish Armed Forces Narcís Serra and Marton Harsanyi	311
17	The Middle East and North Africa Tannous Mouawad	325
18	Egypt: A Case Study Raymond Maalouf	351
19	Lebanon and Syria: A Case Study Tannous Mouawad	363
	About the Authors	375
	Index	379