

An Emerging East Asia and the Next American Administration

Peking University
Center for International and
Strategic Studies

The Brookings Institution
Center for Northeast Asian Policy Studies

Wednesday, November 28, 2007
Peking University, Center for International and Strategic Studies
School of International Studies, Building C, Qiu-lin Lecture Hall

- 9:00-10:30 am Panel 1: Emerging structures of international relations in East Asia
Zhu Feng, chairman
Deputy Director, Center for International and Strategic Studies
Peking University
- 9:05-9:15 am China increasingly active, America increasingly distracted
Ding Xinghao
President, Shanghai Institute of American Studies
CNAPS Advisory Council
- 9:15-9:25 am Forms of East Asian regionalism
Qin Yaqing
Executive Vice President, China Foreign Affairs University
- 9:25-9:35 am Non-traditional security issues – energy, health, environment, terrorism, narcotics
Wonhyuk Lim
Fellow, Korea Development Institute
CNAPS Fellow 2005-2006
- 9:35-9:45 am Security dilemmas in Asia
Richard Bush
Senior Fellow, Foreign Policy
Director, Center for Northeast Asian Policy Studies, The Brookings Institution
- 10:45-12:15 pm Panel 2: East Asia's economic dynamism
John L. Thornton, chairman
Chair, Board of Trustees, The Brookings Institution
- 10:50-11:00 am Is China's growth sustainable?
Chang Ka Mun
Manager Director, Li & Fung Development (China), Ltd.
CNAPS Advisory Council
- 11:00-11:10 am What are the prospects for Japan's economy?
Seiji Takagi
Managing Director, Japan External Trade Organization, Hong Kong Office
Visiting Fellow, School of International Studies, Peking University
- 11:10-11:20 am Will the U.S. continue to embrace globalization?
Barry Bosworth
Senior Fellow, Economic Studies Program, The Brookings Institution
- 11:30-11:40 am Implications for greater East Asia
Long Guoqiang
Senior Fellow and Deputy Director-General
Development Research Center, State Council of the People's Republic of China
CNAPS Visiting Fellow 1998-1999

12:30-1:45 pm

Lunch Keynote Address

China's Peaceful Development and the Harmonious World

Li Zhaoxing

Former Minister of Foreign Affairs, China
Professor, Peking University

2:00-2:30 pm

Afternoon Keynote Address – The 2008 U.S. presidential election

Wang Jisi, chairman

Director, Center for International and Strategic Studies
Peking University

Tom Mann

Senior Fellow, Governance Studies Program
The Brookings Institution

2:40-4:15 pm

Panel 3: U.S. foreign policy under the next administration

Wang Jisi, chairman

Director, Center for International and Strategic Studies
Peking University

2:45-2:55 pm

Directions of U.S. foreign policy after the Bush administration

Ivo Daalder (remarks read by Richard Bush)

Senior Fellow, Foreign Policy
The Brookings Institution

2:55-3:05 pm

Defense and security challenges for the new administration

Michael Nacht

Aaron Wildavsky Dean and Professor of Public Policy
Goldman School of Public Policy, University of California - Berkeley

3:05-3:15 pm

Focus on China and Asia

Frank Jannuzi

Senior Asia Advisor to the Majority Staff
U.S. Senate Committee on Foreign Relations

3:15-3:25 pm

A Chinese view

Yuan Peng

Director and Senior Researcher, Institute of American Studies
China Institutes for Contemporary International Relations
CNAPS Fellow 2003-2004

3:25-3:35 pm

Commentary

Anne-Marie Slaughter

Dean, Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs
Princeton University