

The Changing Korean Peninsula and the Future of East Asia

Co-hosted by

Seoul Forum for International Affairs

Center for Northeast Asian Policy Studies, The Brookings Institution

Korean-American Association

JoongAng Ilbo

December 1, 2005

Orchid Room, Westin Chosun Hotel, Seoul

Opening, 9:00 a.m.

Orchid Room

Welcome and Introduction

Han Sung-Joo, President, Seoul Forum for International Affairs

Strobe Talbott, President, The Brookings Institution

Panel 1, 9:15-10:45 a.m.

Developments on the Korean Peninsula

Moderator

Lee Hong-Koo, Chairman, Seoul Forum

Evolving attitudes toward North Korea

Lee Nae-Young, Professor of Political Science, Korea University

Six-party talks

Jack Pritchard, Visiting Fellow, The Brookings Institution

Korea and China's Rise

Chung Jae Ho, Professor of International Relations,
Seoul National University

Panel 2, 11:00-12:30 p.m.

Future of the ROK-U.S. Alliance

Moderator

Kim Kyung-Won, President Emeritus, Seoul Forum

Korean perspective

Kim Sung-han, Professor of American Studies, Institute for Foreign Affairs and National Security

Korean perspective

Lim Wonhyuk, CNAPS Visiting Fellow, The Brookings Institution

American perspective

Michael O'Hanlon, Senior Fellow, The Brookings Institution

Chinese perspective

Wu Xinbo, Professor of American Studies, Fudan University

Private Luncheon, 12:45-2:00 p.m.

America and the World: Bush and Beyond

Welcome and introduction

Hyun Hong-choo, Advisor, Kim & Chang

Keynote address

Strobe Talbott, The Brookings Institution

Panel 3, 2:00-4:00 p.m.

Alternative Futures for Northeast Asia

Moderator

Richard Bush, Senior Fellow and CNAPS Director,
The Brookings Institution

U.S.-centric

Richard Bush, The Brookings Institution

China-centric

Jing Huang, Senior Fellow, The Brookings Institution

Maritime vs. continental

Ha Young-Sun, Professor of International Relations,
Seoul National University

Concert of power

Ivo Daalder, Senior Fellow, The Brookings Institution

U.S.-China condominium

Yoichi Funabashi, Guest Scholar, The Brookings Institution

Private Dinner, 7:00-8:30 p.m.

Cosmos Room

Host

Ambassador Han Sung-Joo, Seoul Forum

This event is made possible in part by the Korea Foundation's generous support for CNAPS.