

Expert Consultation on the Development of the World Bank's New Education Strategy

Friday, March 26, 2010, 9:00 am – 1:00 pm

Center for Universal Education at Brookings, 1775 Massachusetts Ave NW, Washington, DC

Participants:

Anda Adams, Center for Universal Education at Brookings
Felipe Barrera, The World Bank
Theresa Betancourt, Harvard School of Public Health
Nick Burnett, Results for Development
Victoria Dunning, The Global Fund for Children
Nawsheen Elaheebocus, World Bank & Education for All - Fast Track Initiative
Rachel Glennerster, Abdul Latif Jameel Poverty Action Lab, MIT
George Ingram, Education Policy and Data Center
Elizabeth King, The World Bank
Suezan Lee, U.S. Agency for International Development
Ayah Mahgoub, Center for Global Development
Shirley Miske, Miske Witt Associates
Mary Joy Pigozzi, Academy for Educational Development
Jeffrey Puryear, Inter-American Dialogue
Gita Steiner-Khamsi, Teachers College, Columbia University
Jacques van der Gaag, Center for Universal Education at Brookings
Emily Vargas-Baron, The RISE Institute
Rebecca Winthrop, Center for Universal Education at Brookings

Via video-conference/teleconference

Ward Heneveld, The William and Flora Hewlett Foundation
Karen Mundy, University of Toronto
Jane Nelson, Harvard University
PaulineRose, Education for All Global Monitoring Report