

CONTENTS

Foreword		ix
Fareed Zakaria
Preface to the Classic Edition		xiii
Abbreviations		xxi
Introduction		1
PART ONE
Decisions: Getting into Vietnam
ONE	Patterns, Dilemmas, and Explanations	9
	Patterns   Dilemmas   A Range of Explanations   Stereotypes Fail   Summary: Three Propositions
TWO	Recurrent Patterns and Dilemmas from Roosevelt to Eisenhower	26
	“Hot Potato” Briefings   The “Asian Berlin”   The Roosevelt Administration   The Truman Administration   The Eisenhower Administration
THREE	Picking up the Torch: The Kennedy Administration	66
	Fastening the Commitment: 1961   Buildup and Breakdown   Taking the Reins: 1963
FOUR	Intervention in Force: The Johnson Administration, I	89
	Preparing for Pressure: 1964   Crossing the Rubicon: Early 1965   Setting the Pattern of Perseverance: Late 1965

FIVE	Coming Home to Roost: The Johnson Administration, II On the Tiger's Back: 1966–67   Debate, Diplomacy, and Disillusionment   Off the Tiger's Back: The Reckoning of 1968	130
PART TWO
Goals: The Imperative Not to Lose
SIX	National Security Goals and Stakes The Cautious Route to Commitment   Exploring the Security Issue   The Domino Theory	163
SEVEN	Domestic Political Stakes The Two Phases of American Policy on Vietnam   Practical Political Considerations	182
EIGHT	The Bureaucracy and the Inner Circle Career Services and U.S. Stakes in Vietnam   Pressure from the Top and from the Bottom   Concluding Observations about the Imperative not to Lose	207
PART THREE
Means: The Minimum Necessary and the Maximum Feasible
NINE	Constraints Four Strategies for Winning   The Fate of the “Winning” Strategies   Building and Breaching “Firebreaks”	229
TEN	Pressures and the President Pressures to Do Both More and Less   Presidential Responses   Presidential Management of the Political System   How the System Helped the President   Strategy and Politics: The Presidents' Dilemmas	252
PART FOUR
Perceptions: Realism, Hope, and Compromise
ELEVEN	Optimism, Pessimism, and Credibility Contradictions and Hedging   The Roots of Internal Estimates   The Cycle of Highs and Lows   Estimates and Escalation	279

TWELVE	The Strategy of Perseverance The Stalemated War   Elements of the Strategy	302
--------	---	-----

PART FIVE
Conclusions

THIRTEEN	The Lessons of Vietnam Nixon's and Ford's Policies   How the System Worked   Two Schools of Thought on the Lessons of Vietnam   Recommendations	325
----------	--	-----

	Documentary Appendix	349
--	----------------------	-----

	Bibliographical Note	355
--	----------------------	-----

	Notes	357
--	-------	-----

	Index	399
--	-------	-----

Table and Figures

TABLE 1.	Proportion of the Public Favoring Various U.S. Vietnam Policies, 1966, 1967	146
----------	--	-----

FIGURE 1.	Trends in Support for the War in Vietnam, 1965–71	145
-----------	---	-----

FIGURE 2.	Trends in Support for the War in Vietnam, by Partisanship, 1965–71	147
-----------	---	-----