

Contents

Foreword	vii
Strobe Talbott
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1
Cesare Merlini and Olivier Roy
PART ONE
SOCIETAL CHANGE IN THE ARAB MUSLIM WORLD
1 Demography, Migration, and Revolt in the Southern Mediterranean	17
Philippe Fargues
2 Islamic Revival and Democracy: The Case in Tunisia and Egypt	47
Olivier Roy
3 The Changing Role of Women in Society	53
Maria Cristina Paciello and Renata Pepicelli
4 Mediterranean Islamic Expression and Web 2.0	76
Gary R. Bunt
5 Modern Commercial and Social Entrepreneurship as a Factor of Change	96
Gonzalo Escribano and Alejandro Lorca

6	The Economics of Arab Transitions Caroline Freund and Carlos A. Primo Braga	122
---	---	-----

PART TWO

CONSEQUENCES AND POLICY OPTIONS

7	Midwife or Spectator? U.S. Policies toward North Africa in the Twenty-First Century Jonathan Laurence	147
---	--	-----

8	The Power of False Analogies: Misunderstanding Political Islam in a Post-Totalitarian World Alan Wolfe	169
---	---	-----

9	Societal Change and Political Responses in Euro-Mediterranean Relations Roberto Aliboni	184
---	--	-----

10	The West and the Islamist Challenge: Toward a Common Religious Market? Olivier Roy	214
----	---	-----

11	The Challenge of a Changing Arab Islam in Future Transatlantic Relations Cesare Merlini	227
----	--	-----

	Contributors	253
--	--------------	-----

	Index	259
--	-------	-----