

Contents

Foreword	vii
John L. Thornton
Acknowledgments	xi
1 Introduction: Assessing China's Political Development	1
Cheng Li
PART I. CHINESE DISCOURSE ABOUT DEMOCRACY
2 China's Political Trajectory: What Are the Chinese Saying?	25
Andrew J. Nathan
3 Ideological Change and Incremental Democracy in Reform-Era China	44
Yu Keping
PART II. INSTITUTIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND GENERATIONAL CHANGE
4 Institutionalization and the Changing Dynamics of Chinese Leadership Politics	61
Alice L. Miller
5 Institutionalization of Political Succession in China: Progress and Implications	80
Jing Huang
6 Will China's "Lost Generation" Find a Path to Democracy?	98
Cheng Li

PART III. ECONOMIC ACTORS AND ECONOMIC POLICY

- 7 Business Interest Groups in Chinese Politics: 121
The Case of the Oil Companies
Erica S. Downs
- 8 China's Left Tilt: Pendulum Swing or Midcourse Correction? 142
Barry Naughton

PART IV. AGENTS OF CHANGE: MEDIA, LAW, AND CIVIL SOCIETY

- 9 Political Implications of China's Information Revolution: 161
The Media, the Minders, and Their Message
Richard Baum
- 10 Legalization without Democratization in China under Hu Jintao 185
Jacques deLisle
- 11 Staying in Power: What Does the Chinese Communist 212
Party Have to Do?
Joseph Fewsmith

PART V. FORCES FOR AND AGAINST DEMOCRACY IN CHINA

- 12 Fighting Corruption: A Difficult Challenge for Chinese Leaders 229
Minxin Pei
- 13 The Political Implications of China's Social Future: 251
Complacency, Scorn, and the Forlorn
Dorothy J. Solinger
- 14 Straining against the Yoke? Civil-Military Relations in 267
China after the Seventeenth Party Congress
James Mulvenon

PART VI. EXTERNAL MODELS AND CHINA'S FUTURE

- 15 Learning from Abroad to Reinvent Itself: External 283
Influences on Internal CCP Reforms
David Shambaugh
- 16 Taiwan and China's Democratic Future: 302
Can the Tail Wag the Dog?
Chu Yun-han
- Contributors 323
- Index 331