

CONTENTS

Foreword by John L. Thornton	vii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction by Cheng Li	xvii

PART I

POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT IN REFORM-ERA CHINA

1 Democracy Is a Good Thing	3
2 The Study of Political Science and Public Administration in China: An Overview	6
3 The Seventeenth Party Congress and the Agenda for China's Political Reforms	27

PART II

SOCIAL TRANSFORMATION AND CIVIL SOCIETY

4 China's Civil Society: Conceptual Definitions, Types, and Background	37
5 The Characteristics of Chinese Civil Society: Administrative Regulations and Institutional Environment	52
6 Civil Society Organizations: Challenges and Responses	75

PART III

CULTURE, MODERNITY, AND SUSTAINABILITY

- 7 Culture and Modernity in the Chinese Intellectual Discourse: A Historical Perspective 93
- 8 The Transformation of Chinese Culture since the Launching of Reform: A Historical Perspective 113
- 9 China's Economic Modernization and Sustainability 134
- 10 Harmony between Man and Nature: China's Environmental Practices and Challenges 140

PART IV

GLOBALIZATION AND GOVERNANCE

- 11 Preserving China's Autonomy in the Era of Globalization 149
- 12 Federalism in Modern China: Concepts and Experiments 157
- 13 A Harmonious World and Global Governance: A Chinese Perspective 168
- Notes* 181
- Further Reading: The Writings of Yu Keping* 199
- Index* 207