Estimated Number of Insurgent Forces in Pakistan<sup>4</sup>

TOTAL TALIBAN FORCES
Pakistani Taliban (Tehrik-e-Taliban) Forces	20,000-25,000
High End	100,000
Low End	10,000
Possible Additional Assets
Punjabi Militants	2,000
Afghan Taliban	32,000-40,000
Uzbek Militants	1,000-2,000
al Qaeda's "Shadow Army"	8,000-12,000
Maximum Potential Forces	156,000
Minimum Potential Forces	30,000-40,000

Estimated Potential Number of Counterinsurgency Forces in Pakistan for NWFP and FATA<sup>5</sup>

TOTAL PAKISTANI COIN FORCES
Currently Deployed	150,000
Frontier Corps	~55,000
Local Garrisoned Army	~40,000
Redeployed Army	~55,000
Further Releasable from Indian Border (Potential)	0-192,000
Reasonable (based on 1:2.3 theater ratio)*	152,000
Other Army Redeployments	40,000
NWFP Police (Potential)	50-55,000
Reasonable (minus estimated 40% attrition)	33,000
Rangers	40,000
Lashkars	104-116,000
Maximum Potential Forces	593,000
Minimum Potential Forces	519,000

*This is the ratio of troops deployed by the Pakistani Army when it adopted a primarily defensive position in response to India's deployment of 700,000 troops on its border with Punjab following an attack on the Indian Parliament in 2001.

NOTE: The Rangers are a lightly armed paramilitary force that are part of the Ministry of the Interior and traditionally focus on border protection as well as the security of important monuments and other national assets. Lashkars are locally formed militias whose objective is to drive out Taliban forces from their area.

Annual Number of Unmanned Predator Drone Strikes in Pakistan, 2004-2009<sup>6</sup>

*Thru September 30

NOTE: The first recorded Predator strike in Pakistan occurred in June 2004.

NOTE: Political candidates in FATA, regardless of unofficial ties and sympathies to political parties, are required to contest elections as independents.

Description of Pakistan's Main Political Parties

PPP	Pakistani People's Party	The largest political party in Pakistan, it is center-left and draws the majority of its support from its base in Sindh province as well as Punjab. Includes current President Asif Ali Zardari and Prime Minister Yousaf Raza Gillani.
PML (N)	Pakistani Muslim League-Nawaz	Founded by former Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif in 1993, the PML (N) represents the largest portion of the various wings of the PML. Like the other PML wings, it is center-right and conservative. In 2001, it broke away from the PML (Q) in order to form an opposition to the leadership of then-President Pervez Musharraf.
PML (Q)	Pakistani Muslim League-Quaid	Centrist and conservative, the PML (Q) broke away from the PML (N) in 2001 prior to elections in 2002. Formed at the suggestion of then-President Pervez Musharraf, the leadership consisted of staunch supporters of Musharraf and considered him their mentor. However, Musharraf never became an official member, preferring to keep the office of President non-partisan and neutral.
MQM	Muttahida Qaumi Movement	A secular and liberal party, its constituency is rooted in Muslims who immigrated from India following the formation of the Pakistani state in 1947. The vast majority of its influence is focused in Sindh province, particularly the provincial capital Karachi.
ANP	Awami National Party	The ANP is a secular Pashtun party that has its greatest following in the Pashtun dominated NWFP as well as Pashtun areas of Balochistan.
JUI (F)	Jamiat Ulema-e-Islam-Fazal	A conservative Deobandi Muslim organization, the JUI (F) espouses a strict adherence to Islamic law and is adamantly against Pakistan's closer relations with the U.S. and its increased focus on counter-terrorism. The "F" refers to Maulana Fazal-ur-Rehman, the head of one of two wings of the original JUI and a member of the National Assembly. This wing was the only member of a coalition of conservative religious parties, the Muttahida Majlis-e-Amal (MMA), to take part in the most recent general elections in 2008. After having won 53 seats in the National Assembly in the 2002 general elections (representing NWFP and Balochistan), this was reduced to 6 in the 2008 elections.

Frequency Rating of Google Searches in Pakistan for “Taliban” and Related Terms by Month, 2006-Present<sup>21</sup>

NOTE: Figures depicted are based on a numerical rating system determined by Google on a scale of 0-100. It is based on an analysis of a specific search term relative to all searches done over a period of time in a certain area. Terms listed here were searched individually. All numeric values refer to “Taliban” search.

Pakistan’s Rank in Reporters without Borders’ Index of Press Freedom, 2002-2009<sup>22</sup>

YEAR	SCORE	RANK	NUMBER OF COUNTRIES SURVEYED
2009	65.7	159	175
2008	54.9	152	173
2007	64.8	152	169
2006	70.3	157	168
2005	60.8	150	167
2004	61.8	150	167
2003	39.0	128	166
2002	44.7	119	139

NOTE ON INDEX OF PRESS FREEDOM TABLE: The Index is based on a questionnaire with 50 criteria for assessing the state of press freedom in each country. It includes every kind of violation directly affecting journalists (such as murders, imprisonment, physical attacks and threats) and news media (censorship, confiscation issues, searches and harassment). In addition to taking into account abuses attributable to the state, those carried out by armed militias, clandestine organizations or pressure groups are also considered.

The lower the score attained, the higher the degree of press freedom in that respective country. Although there is no specific information given regarding how the overall score was compiled, the top-rated countries for 2007 received an overall score of 0.75, with the median receiving a score of 25.3. The overall average score for the 2007 Index was 31.5.

Pakistan's Rank in Transparency International's Annual Corruption Perceptions Index (CPI), 2001-2009<sup>23</sup>

2009	139	180
2008	134	180
2007	138	180
2006	142	163
2005	144	158
2004	129	145
2003	92	133
2002	77	102
2001	79	91

NOTE: The CPI is a composite index that draws on 14 expert opinion surveys. It scores countries on a scale from zero to ten, with zero indicating high levels of perceived corruption and ten indicating low levels of perceived corruption. Due to a lack of reliable data, Afghanistan was not included in the CPI survey for the years 2006.

Pakistan's Rank in the World Economic Forum's Annual Global Competitiveness Index (GCI)<sup>24</sup>

YEAR	RANK	NUMBER OF COUNTRIES SURVEYED
2009-10	101	133
2008-09	101	134
2007-08	92	131
2006-07	83	122
2005-06	91	125
2004-05	94	117

NOTE: The GCI attempts to measure a nation's global competitiveness by providing a mirror image of a nation's economic environment and its ability to achieve sustained levels of prosperity and growth. Data is drawn from two sources: international hard data sources and the Executive Opinion Survey. For 2009-10, approximately 13,000 surveys were completed by business executives from 133 countries.
