

CONTENTS

Foreword by John L. Thornton	vii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction by Cheng Li	xvii
PROLOGUE
An Open Letter to Legal Professionals in Chongqing	1
PART I
JUDICIAL INDEPENDENCE: CHINA'S TREACHEROUS PATH
1 The Ongoing Quest for Judicial Independence     in Contemporary China	9
2 Mencius on the Rule of Law	40
PART II
CONSTITUTIONALISM AND JUDICIAL REVIEW
3 China's First Steps toward Constitutionalism	63
4 Constitutionalism as a Global Trend and Its Impact on China	101
5 Remarks Given at the New Western Hills Symposium	125

PART III

THE EXPANSION OF LEGAL EDUCATION
AND THE LEGAL PROFESSION

- 6 China's Legal Profession: The Emergence and Growing Pains of a Professionalized Legal Class 133
- 7 Foreign Models and Chinese Practice in Legal Education during the Reform Era 144

PART IV

THE LEGAL PROTECTION OF FREE SPEECH

- 8 Freedom of the Press: A Necessary Condition for Social Stability in China 175
- 9 An Open Letter to the CCP Politburo Standing Committee Regarding Media Censorship 181

PART V

THE LEGAL PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

- 10 Challenging the Death Penalty: Why We Should Abolish this Barbaric Punishment 191
- 11 A Plea for Genuine Political Progress in China 216
- Notes* 221
- Further Reading: The Writings of He Weifang, 1984–2010* 243
- Index* 249