

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
PART I. INTRODUCTION
1 A Hesitant Rule Shaper? Waheguru Pal Singh Sidhu, Pratap Bhanu Mehta, and Bruce Jones	3
PART II. PERSPECTIVES ON MULTILATERALISM
2 The Changing Dynamics of India's Multilateralism C. Raja Mohan	25
3 India and Multilateralism: A Practitioner's Perspective Shyam Saran	43
4 India as a Regional Power Srinath Raghavan	57
PART III. DOMESTIC AND REGIONAL DRIVERS
5 The Economic Imperative for India's Multilateralism Sanjaya Baru	75
6 What in the World Is India Able to Do? India's State Capacity for Multilateralism Tanvi Madan	95
7 India's Regional Disputes Kanti Bajpai	115

8	From an Ocean of Peace to a Sea of Friends Iskander Luke Rehman	131
PART IV. MULTILATERAL POLICY IN PRACTICE
9	Dilemmas of Sovereignty and Order: India and the UN Security Council David M. Malone and Rohan Mukherjee	157
10	India and UN Peacekeeping: The Weight of History and a Lack of Strategy Richard Gowan and Sushant K. Singh	177
11	From Defensive to Pragmatic Multilateralism and Back: India's Approach to Multilateral Arms Control and Disarmament Rajesh Rajagopalan	197
12	Security in Cyberspace: India's Multilateral Efforts Sandeep Bhardwaj	217
13	India and International Financial Institutions and Arrangements Devesh Kapur	237
14	Of Maps and Compasses: India in Multilateral Climate Negotiations Navroz K. Dubash	261
15	India's Energy, Food, and Water Security: International Cooperation for Domestic Capacity Arunabha Ghosh and David Steven	281
16	India and International Norms: R2P, Genocide Prevention, Human Rights, and Democracy Nitin Pai	303
17	From Pluralism to Multilateralism? G-20, IBSA, BRICS, and BASIC Christophe Jaffrelot and Waheguru Pal Singh Sidhu	319
	Contributors	341
	Index	343