NOTE: From the start of the war on March 19 until the end of major combat operations on April 30, Operation Iraqi Freedom caused 138 American troop fatalities. Of those, 114 were the result of hostile action, and 24 the result of non-hostile action. 65 U.S. troops were killed in March. There were a total of 73 American fatalities in April, 22 of which were killed after April 9. Of those 22, 10 were the result of hostile action and 12 the result of non-hostile action.

NOTE: 550 American troops were wounded in action between March 19 and April 30. The total number of American troops wounded in action does not include troops wounded in non-hostile incidents.

CASUALTIES TO IRAQI SECURITY FORCES

Total number of	Total number of Iraqi
Iraqi security forces	security forces wounded in killed since May	action
as of February 1	as of November 4
300^{10}	18211

NOTE: Up until May 1, 2003, Operation Iraqi Freedom caused 33 British troop fatalities. Of those 33 fatalities, 6 occurred during the month of April. Of the 6 fatalities that occurred in April, 2 occurred after April 9.

NOTE: Excluding American and British troop fatalities, there were no coalition fatalities from the start of the war up until May 1. All such fatalities occurred after that date.

NOTE: The following is a detailed account of the non-U.S. & non-U.K. fatalities;

- One Danish military fatality, August 19; one Spanish military fatality, August 20.
- Ukrainian military fatality, September 30.
- Two Spanish military fatalities, October 9, and October 26. The former fatality was a Spanish military attaché.
- One Polish military fatality, November 6; 16 Italian military fatalities, November 12; 7 Spanish military fatalities, Nov 29. Since the Spanish fatalities were intelligence officers, they are being counted as military rather than civilian fatalities.
- -One Polish military fatality, December 22; 6 Bulgarian military fatalities, December 27; 2 Thai military fatalities, December 27.

NOTE: The estimate of casualties to Iraqi security forces is a very rough one. The total number of Iraqi security forces killed as of February 1 is assumed to be a minimum as it only reflects Iraqi police killed since the fall of Baghdad as reported by the Washington Post. At least 37 police officers in Mosul have been killed by resistance fighters since this spring according to the same article. The total number of fatalities to Iraqi security forces since the end of the war was estimated as 107 by Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld on December 7.

U.S. TROOPS ENGAGED IN OPERATION IRAQI FREEDOM STATIONED IN THE VICINITIES OF IRAQ AND AT SEA

1/28/2004

Month	Number of U.S. troops
September	51,000 ⁴⁴

NOTE: Of the 51,000 troops involved in Operation Iraqi Freedom that were stationed outside of Iraq in September, approximately 10,070 were Navy personnel (most at sea in the Persian Gulf). The majority of the remaining 40,090 troops are assumed to have been stationed in Kuwait. Since approximately 2,500 Marines were stationed in Kuwait, we assume that roughly 37,590 Army troops were stationed in Kuwait or in the vicinities. This table will be updated as soon as more recent data becomes available.

NOTE: All numbers are end of month estimates, or latest data available for the current month.

NOTE: The functions of each coalition country's military personnel vary, and range from security forces to medics and engineers.

NOTE: The majority of the 34 country coalition forces are organized into two multi-national divisions (MND). The MND South East is under British command and includes forces from the United Kingdom, Italy, Denmark, Czech Republic, Portugal, South Korea, Netherlands, Romania, Norway, New Zealand, and Lithuania. The MND Central South is under Polish command and includes forces from Poland, Spain, Nicaragua, Dominican Republic, Romania, Latvia, Slovakia, Hungary, Ukraine, Bulgaria, Honduras, Mongolia, Lithuania, Kazakhstan, Thailand and the Philippines. In addition, Albania, Australia, Azerbaijan, El Salvador, Estonia, Georgia, Japan, Macedonia, and Moldova contribute military personnel in some capacity.

NOTE: Whereas the number of daily attacks on Iraqi police and civil defense has increased, the total number of attacks on Iraqi civilians, Iraqi security forces, and coalition forces has decreased according to a statement made by Maj. Gen. Raymond T. Odierno on January 22. The total number of daily attacks on these forces is believed to be more than 20 but less than 30.

NOTE: The number of daily attacks against American soldiers in Tikrit has dropped to 6 compared to 22 in November according to a statement made by Maj. Gen. Raymond T. Odierno on December 11.

NOTE: One American civilian defense contractor was killed by a car bomb on August 6. 22 United Nations employees, one American scholar, and one Canadian aid worker died in the bombing on the United Nations headquarters in Baghdad on August 19. One British and one American civilian were killed in an attack on October 25. One International Committee of the Red Cross employee died in the October 27 bombing. 2 Italian civilians were killed by a truck bomb at the Italian military police headquarters on November 12. During the same month, 2 Japanese diplomats, 1 Columbian civilian defense contractor and two South Korean electrical workers were killed. 3 American journalists were killed by a car bomb on January 1. Two French civilians were killed on January 6. A South African was killed on January 28.

NOTE: Due to the lack of detailed and comprehensive data on Iraqi civilians killed in attacks by insurgents we are unable to create a similar table for this category at present.

NOTE: There are slightly different estimates as to how many people in the deck of cards are still at large, and we will continue to update this table as more information becomes available. Statements by Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld suggest only 10 individuals remaining, whereas remarks by George W. Bush in his State of the Union speech suggest 15 people remaining. The latest figures stated in table are in our judgment the most accurate. They are based on reports by CPA on January 4 and news of the capture of No.54 in the decks of cards on January 14. No. 48 in the deck of cards was captured February 9.

NOTE: Saddam Hussein was captured on December 13.

NOTE: "Over 90 percent" of the enemy combatants are Bath Party loyalists, according to John E. McLaughlin, Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, as cited in an interview in the Washington Post on January 9.

NOTE: As of January 5, 14 cells, each consisting of 20-100 enemy combatants are believed to be actively operating in Baghdad. Data on success in the counterinsurgency campaign is somewhat encouraging, but no one can tell how quickly cells that are being depleted or destroyed are either regenerating or being replaced by the formation of new cells.

NOTE: The estimate of suspected insurgents killed or detained since May is a very rough one. The numbers for suspected insurgents killed or detained in January is not a monthly total, but the projected total given the current daily pace.

NOTE: About 9,000 people are in coalition custody as of 7 January, 506 of which will be released within the next couple of weeks.

NOTE: Of the enemy combatants detained by U.S. forces, only 200-300 are foreign nationals according to a statement made by Brig. Gen. Mark Kimmit in December.

NOTE: All numbers are end of month estimates, or latest data available for the current month.

NOTE: There are 8,000 police on duty in Baghdad as of February 1 according to an article by Thom Shanker in the New York Times. Analysts estimate that 19,000 police are needed in the capital according to the article.

NOTE: Reports on 13 December said that approximately 480 of the 900 soldiers in the first army battalion trained since May 1 were resigning, largely due to allegations of insufficient pay.

NOTE: The army under Saddam was 400,000 troops strong.

CRIME-RELATED DEATHS IN BADGHAD SINCE MAY

Month	Estimated annualized murder rate per 100,000 citizens ¹³⁷
	(For comparison Washington DC rate: 43 ¹³⁸)
May	70-100
June	95-130
July	95-160
August	110-190
September	80-140
October	70-120
November	55-95
December	70-120
January	70-120

NOTE: Lower estimates for each month are typically based on the number of bodies brought to the Baghdad morgue with mortal gunshot wounds. Higher estimates reflect the fact that many victims are buried quickly and privately and never recorded in official tallies. To estimate these, when possible we use the total number of bodies of victims brought into the morgue in a given month as a very rough proxy for total murder victims in Baghdad (recognizing that many bodies at the morgue are not those of murder victims, but at the same time that many murder victims never are taken to the morgue. The homicide rate is calculated based on an estimated population of 5.6 million people in Baghdad.

NOTE: Despite a generally poor security situation in Baghdad, there are indicators suggesting that the situation is improving somewhat. According to a report made by Brig. Gen. Mark Hurtling, assistant commander, 1st Armored Davison, Baghdad, "we continue to see a decrease in crime (especially as we put more Iraqi Police and ICDC [Iraqi Civil Defense Corps] on the streets.)¹³⁹" Nevertheless, according to one senior Iraqi police chief on January 22, although "murders [in Baghdad] are decreasing," the level of other crimes such as robberies and carjackings has not. "The police are weak", he continues. "We don't have enough supplies. The public is still afraid to cooperate with us. They fear tribalism and retribution. ¹⁴⁰" The Pentagon has yet to make any statistics on Iraqi crime or murder rates available as of January 30. This table will be updated as soon as more information becomes available.

NOTE: Because Baghdad comprises roughly 1/5 of the entire Iraqi population, Iraq's national murder would according to our statistics be roughly 10-30 per 100,000 citizens per year—even if there were no murders outside of the capital at all...Interpol lists the following nationwide numbers per 100,000 citizens for countries in the region; Libya 2.08, Jordan 6.33, Lebanon 3.38, Saudi Arabia, 0.71. However, Interpol notes that these [nationwide] statistics cannot be used as a basis for comparison between different countries. This is partly because "police statistics reflect reported crimes, but this only represents a fraction of the real level. The volume of crimes not reported to the police may depend on the actions, policies and perceptions of the police. These can vary with time, as well as from country to country." Because of the inherent difficulty in interpreting and comparing international murder rates, all such statistics - including those stated in the table above - should be interpreted guardedly.

NOTE: Debt towards Paris Club countries, Russia and the Republic of Korea (cursive) excludes interest rates and is defined as; "from the debtor side, the amounts due by the public sector. From the creditors' point of view, the figures include credits and loans granted, or guaranteed by, the Governments or their appropriate institutions. Basically, private claims (debt owed to private creditors) as well as private debt (owed by private Iraqi Institutions without public guarantee) is excluded from this recollection...Russian claims: this figure represents the amounts due to Russia after a simulation of the adjustment on Soviet era claims consistent with Paris Club methodology."

NOTE: "Estimates of Iraq's foreign debt vary widely, from $62-130 billion. The disparities in estimates are due in part to a disagreement between Iraq and its neighboring states over the nature of approximately $30 billion in assistance given to Iraq by several Gulf States during the Iran-Iraq War. Iraq considers these payments to have been grants; the creditor states consider them to have been loans. Figures also vary depending on whether they include interests which some estimates put at $47 billion and rising. The World Bank/Bank for International Settlements' 2001 estimate for Iraqi debt totaled $127.7 billion, including $47 billion in accrued interest. The U.S Department of Energy's 2001 estimate was 62.2 billion."

NOTE: "There are known to be creditors in Egypt, although the exact amount of this debt is not known. There are also assumed to be other unknown or undisclosed creditors in these and other countries."

NOTE: The table includes countries that made a pledge to Iraqi reconstruction in the form of a grant or a loan. In addition, Iran offered cross-border electricity material, access to their terminals, and $300 million in credit, Sri Lanka offered to contribute 100 tons of tea, Vietnam offered $500,000 worth of rice, and Saudi Arabia $500 million in export credits.

NOTE: The Bush Administration's supplementary spending bill received congressional approval on Nov 4, 2003. Although the amount devoted to Iraqi reconstruction that the House and Senate approved was $1.4 billion less than requested, the entire amount will be given as a grant instead of as earlier discussed, a loan.

NOTE: Since not all pledges referred to are immediately available as funds, it is hard to assess how much money is presently available for Iraqi reconstruction purposes. Another reason for the delay in making money available is that loans to a non-sovereign government are not legal according to international law.

NOTE: Estimated domestic consumption of crude oil is 450,000 barrels per day.

NOTE: Kerosene imports began 5 October, 2003. All previous months cover only production

NOTE: LPG= Liquified Petroleum Gas

NOTE: The administration's post war estimate was that Iraq would accrue $2-3 billion in oil revenues between June and December 2003. As of January 10, total crude oil export revenues since June measures a total of $5.3 billion according the CPA.

NOTE: The numbers referred to in the table is a very rough approximation of the employment situation in Iraq. As noted by Director of Employment, Fatin Al-Saeda, Iraqi Ministry of Labor and Social Affairs on October 23, 2003 "There are no employment statistics for Iraq." Estimates made by economists, however, generally range between 50-70%. There is an inherent difficulty in measuring the Iraqi rate of unemployment over time. Because recent estimates are likely to be more accurate than older ones, but also higher, this means that despite an improvement in the economic situation nationwide, the numbers give the impression that it is getting worse. Considering the increase in entrepreneurial activity after the end of the war, we have for the purposes of this database assumed that there has been an improvement in unemployment levels, and hence weighted information supporting such a conclusion heavier than contradictory data reports. Another factor contributing to a somewhat improved employment situation in Iraq is that roughly 400,000 jobs have been directly created by the Coalition Provisional Authority.

NOTE: The unemployment rate in Tikrit, Saddam Hussein's hometown and a bastion of anti-American resistance, is estimated to be 50%.

- 137 The ranges are author's estimate or based on numbers provided in the following articles; Neil MacFarquhar, "Open War Over, Iraqis Focus on Crime and a Hunt for Jobs," New York Times, September 16, 2003, Lara Marlowe "Unspeakable Savagery on the Streets of Baghdad, Irish Times, October 10, 2003, and Jeffrey Fleishman, "Back Into Baghdad's Streets," Los Angeles Times, January 22, 2004.

The MacFarquar article is the source for the May range, as well as the higher bounds for June, July, and August. The Marlowe article is the source for the numbers used in the September range and the lower June and July bounds. The lowerbound for June and July is derived from reports that "almost all" of the 2,173 deaths by firearms in Baghdad in 2003 occurred between May and the end of September. Assuming that 2,100 deaths occurred between May and September, we derived the average lower bound for June and July by subtracting the respective numbers cited for May, August and September. The lower bound in November and December is based on statistics provided in the Fleishman article. Based on our notion that the August range was of the highest quality data, we used those numbers to derive a lower to upper bound ratio, which we then applied to estimate a higher bound for November and December. Having no data for October, we constructed an estimate for this month range by taking the average of the lower and upper bounds for September and November respectively. Having no recent data in January, we assume that murder rate is the same as the previous month. We intend to update this entry as soon as more information becomes available.
