TRACKING THE SURGE

APRIL 30, 2007- Viewing trends through the month of April, it is possible to be a bit more specific now about what is working and what is not working with the surge-based strategy so far. That said, it must be underscored that with only 3 of the 5 additional planned U.S. brigades in place, and only about half of all "joint security stations" established throughout Iraq's neighborhoods, results must be viewed as provisional.

On the positive side, extrajudicial killings are down substantially in Iraq, with official US data showing a 2/3 reduction relative to January levels. This reflects a broader reality--much of the civil warfare that characterized Iraq in 2006 has been suppressed, at least temporarily. This is largely due to the willingness of the major Shia militias, including the Mahdi Army of Moqtada al-Sadr, to lie low for the time being. However any such restraint may prove just temporary.

There are some additional good signs. Most notably, the willingness of Sunni tribal leaders in al-Anbar province to collaborate with each other as well as U.S. and Iraqi authorities in opposing al-Qaeda in that region has been very heartening. Correspondingly, violence is down in the region, with reported daily attack rates in and around Ramadi declining from 25 to just 4 over recent weeks.

That said, on balance it is hard to view the surge as a success to date. Two major problems stand out. As a result of these two unfavorable trends, many derivative problems and challenges remain largely intractable to date.

The first major enduring problem is the continued resilience of al Qaeda and related terrorist elements. Their use of vehicle bombs and vest bombs has been sufficiently extensive that overall fatality rates in Iraq have not declined since the surge began, at least according to the best available data. A corollary of this fact is that the Shia in Iraq are suffering a disproportionately high share of the casualties at present. (Not all bombings are aimed at them, but many are, and with the Shia militias showing restraint in their extrajudicial killings, the dominant form of violence is in fact affecting Shia the most.)

Second, Iraqi political compromise remains very limited. All American officials including General David Petraeus underscore the degree to which the surge cannot succeed based on a narrow military logic. At best, it can create political space for compromise that has often proved elusive during Iraq's periods of most intensive violence. Unfortunately, there is little sign of progress along such lines to date. While the hydrocarbon law that would ensure fair sharing of oil revenues among all Iraqis has made some progress in its journey through parliament, little has happened over the last month, and the bill is still far from becoming law. Other areas where reconciliation and compromise are needed, such as reforming the de-Baathification process to allow lower-level Baathists to rejoin public life and compete again for jobs, are not showing much progress.

As the Pentagon's special investigator has just confirmed in his latest quarterly report, Iraq's economy remains mediocre at best. The combination of oil revenue and foreign aid, together with last year's wise reforms of overly generous consumer subsidies, mean that federal coffers are in good shape. But even if there is money to spend, it is not being spent, and certainly not being spent well. A combination of violence, corruption, and federal interference in the efficient flow of some funds straight to provincial governments is impeding progress.

Utility performance remains stuck around Saddam Hussein levels at best, for most things (besides telephone and internet access, which are way up). Schools are not functioning well and health infrastructure is in even worse shape. Unemployment remains mired in the 30+ percent range. None of this is surprising in light of the security picture, but it is disheartening nonetheless.

On balance, the picture in Iraq has some signs of hope, but continues to present more grounds for worry than for confidence. Unless things improve steadily and substantially in the coming months, it will be hard to believe that the new surge-based strategy can succeed.

U.S. TROOPS COMMITTED TO THE SURGE¹

Date	Announced/Approved	Duty
January 2007	21,500	Combat
March 1	2,400	Support
March 7	2,200	Military Police
March 10	129	Provincial Reconstruction
March 17	2,600	Combat Aviation
TOTAL	28,829

NOTE ON THIS TABLE: The figures given refer to those troops committed to the Surge, not necessarily as of yet deployed. Deputy Secretary of Defense Gordon England testified March 1, 2007, that up to 7,000 additional troops could be necessary to help support the 21,500 additional combat troops President Bush announced would be sent to the region in January 2007. Of this figure, Deputy Secretary England testified that 2,400 of these had been approved.

NUMBER OF NEW U.S. TROOPS DEPLOYED TO BAGHDAD²

AS OF

NOTE ON THIS GRAPH: According to Lt. Col. Carl Ey, as of March 1, 2007, there were a total of 10,000 U.S. troops deployed in all of Iraq as a result of the troop increase announced by President Bush in January 2007. Figures from previous months suggest that this represents a net increase of troops, with the total number in theater going from approximately 130,000 in mid-February to 141,000 in early March 2007.

PROPORTION OF U.S. FATALITIES BY LOCATION PRE- AND POST-SURGE³

LOCATION	NUMBER OF U.S. FATALITIES
	7 WEEK PRIOR TO SURGE	FIRST 7 WEEKS OF SURGE
Baghdad	29	53
Anbar Province	46	31
Diyala Province	10	15
Rest of Iraq	28	17
TOTAL	113	116

ADDITIONAL PROVINCIAL RECONSTRUCTION TEAMS (PRT'S), PERSONNEL AND TIMELINE FOR THEIR COMPLETION⁴

NEW PRT'S	LOCATION
10	6 in Baghdad 3 in al-Anbar Province 1 in Babil Province

PHASE	NUMBER OF PERSONNEL	TYPE OF PERSONNEL	DATE OF COMPLETION
I	40 (4 per team)	One of each of the following: *Team Leader *Senior USAID Development Adviser *Civil Affairs Officer *Bi-lingual/Bi-cultural Advisor from DoD	March 2007
II & III	~260	Specialized technical personnel including: *City planners *Rule of law experts *Agribusiness development experts	End of 2007

NOTE ON THIS TABLE: The new PRT's will differ from the 10 existing PRT's in that they will be embedded with brigade combat teams (as opposed to operating independently) and work in coordination with brigade commanders to advise on political and economic matters, as well as conduct community outreach. This is intended to enhance coordination efforts while providing for the security of the PRT. Because it was having difficulty filling the 300 needed vacancies, the U.S. Department of State requested in February 2007 that the U.S. Department of Defense supply 129 qualified personnel for up to 6 months.

IRAQI TROOPS IN BAGHDAD: ACTUAL NUMBER REPORTED FOR DUTY AS A PERCENTAGE OF PROPER BATTALION STRENGTH⁵

NOTE ON THIS GRAPH: These figures refer to all Iraqi battalions that have been deployed to Baghdad. According to Gen. William Caldwell, the added contribution of Iraqi forces to Operation Fardh al-Qanoon (Enforcing the Law) in Baghdad is 9 battalions, all of which were in theater as of March 8, 2007.

NUMBER OF PATROLS CARRIED OUT BY U.S. AND IRAQI FORCES (PER WEEK)⁶

*This is the week before the start of Operation Fardh al-Qanoon (Enforcing the Law)

NOTE ON THIS GRAPH: According to Rear Adm. Mark Fox, “more than half” of the 32,000 patrols conducted the week beginning February 21 were conducted exclusively by Iraqi Security Forces and all were conducted “in and around” Baghdad.

NUMBER OF JOINT SECURITY STATIONS ESTABLISHED BY U.S. AND IRAQI FORCES IN BAGHDAD⁷

NOTE ON THIS GRAPH: Joint Security Stations are security checkpoints to be set up in key strategic areas throughout Baghdad and manned 24 hours per day by elements of both U.S. and Iraqi security forces. As of March 1, 2007, the stated goal of the U.S. military is to establish 30 total JSSs throughout Baghdad’s 10 security districts as part of Operation Fardh al-Qanoon (Enforcing the Law). However, in a conference call with reporters on March 8, Gen. William Caldwell stated that, “We’re now looking at 70 of them.”

MULTIPLE FATALITY BOMBINGS BY TYPE SINCE JANUARY 2007

Total from January 1, 2007 to April 29, 2007 NOTE ON THIS GRAPH: The count of suicide bombings refers to the ratio of the total represented by the bar graph, and should not be double-counted. In most cases, “Other” refers to suicide vest bombs but can also refer to bombs that do not fit into the other two categories, such as those left in trash cans, under market stalls, etc. By definition, “Roadside” bombs cannot be carried out by a suicide attacker.

NUMBER OF NEWLY DISPLACED PEOPLE PER MONTH IN IRAQ, INTERNALLY AND ABROAD

MONTH	DISPLACED PERSONS
January	~90,000
February	~90,000
March	~90,000

EFFECTS OF OPERATION FARDH AL-QANOON ON AREAS OUTSIDE OF BAGHDAD AND AL-ANBAR PROVINCES⁸

- *There has been roughly a 30% increase in offensive actions and attacks in Diyala province (March 9, 2007)
 - In response, a U.S. Stryker battalion consisting of 700 soldiers and nearly 100 armored personnel carriers was sent from Baghdad to Diyala province on March 13, 2007
- *Over the past five months, attacks on U.S. and Iraqi troops have increased 70% in Diyala province (April 16, 2007)
 - It was reported on April 15, 2007, that almost a full brigade of between 2,000 and 3,000 soldiers is being sent into Diyala province to reinforce the territory between Baghdad and Baqubah, the provincial capital
- *In 2006, Diyala province was the eighth-deadliest province (of Iraq’s 18) for U.S. troops (April 22, 2007)
 - Thus far in 2007, it ranks as the third-deadliest province behind Baghdad and Anbar
- *Due to increased support from local tribes, violence in Anbar province has dropped considerably (April 29, 2007)
 - Violent attacks in the Ramadi region have dropped from 25 per day in 2006 to 4 per day since the Surge

CIVILIAN DEATHS IN IRAQ PRE- AND POST-SURGE⁹

	TWO MONTHS PRIOR TO SURGE	FIRST TWO MONTHS OF SURGE
BAGHDAD
Total Civilian Deaths	2,871	1,586
DETAIL:
Sectarian Violence	1,754	832
Suicide Bombings	279	352
Other	838	402
OUTSIDE BAGHDAD	1,009	1,504
TOTAL CIVILIAN FATALITIES	3,880	3,090

NOTE ON THIS TABLE: Figures compiled by the Associated Press.

ESTIMATED NUMBER OF IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED BY MONTH SINCE NOVEMBER 2006¹⁰

November 2006	3,500
December	3,000
January 2007	3,000
February	2,790
March	3,070

NOTE ON THIS TABLE: Figures for November and December 2006 come from estimates reported by the United Nations Assistance Mission for Iraq Human Rights Report covering these months. 2007 figures are estimates provided by the authors based on a steady rate of violent deaths occurring in January, followed by reduction of 7% for the month of February as a result of a drop in sectarian killings credited to Operation Fardh al-Qanoon. However, on April 11, 2007, General William Caldwell reported that overall casualties (killed and wounded) in Iraq were up 10% between February and March, despite a 26% drop in civilian casualties in Baghdad from January to March. This is reflected in the March estimate.

EFFECTS OF EXTERNAL ACTORS ON IRAQI SECURITY¹¹

April 11, 2007- During a press briefing from Baghdad, Major Marty Weber reported that between 40 and 60 foreign fighters per month are crossing into Iraq via the Syrian border. During that same briefing, General William Caldwell stated that there was evidence that Iran has been giving assistance to Sunni insurgent groups, though to a much lesser degree than to Shiite extremists.

PROGRESS OF POLITICAL BENCHMARKS AGREED UPON BETWEEN THE BUSH ADMINISTRATION AND THE IRAQI GOVERNMENT¹²

Political Benchmark	Current Status	Potential Hurdles
Oil Revenue Sharing	February 2007: Draft law passed in the Cabinet but not yet voted on in Parliament	Iraq Federation of Oil Unions has come out against the draft, as has the Iraqi National slate, led by former PM Ilyad al-Allawi
Reversing de-Baathification	March 2007: PM Nouri al-Maliki and President Jalal Talabani sent a draft law to the Cabinet for debate	As of April 1, 2007, Falah Hassan, who heads the parliament's de-Baathification Committee, reported that his panel had not been given a copy of the draft law. In addition, prominent Shiite leaders, led by Grand Ayatollah Ali al-Sistani, have come out against the draft law
New election laws	No progress thus far
Schedule provincial elections	No progress thus far
Disbanding militias	No political progress thus far, although Coalition and Iraqi security forces have engaged and detained militia members
Plan of national reconciliation	No progress thus far
Amending the Constitution to address Sunni concerns	In October 2005, U.S. Ambassador Zalmay Khalilzad brokered a deal with Sunni leaders that, in exchange for Sunni participation in the Constitutional referendum, ensured the formation of a committee to amend the Constitution to address Sunni concerns by September 2006. Thus far, there has been no progress.

AS OF: April 8, 2007 The benchmarks listed above were taken from a letter from Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice to Senator Carl Levin sent in January 2007 as mentioned in Newsweek's April 2, 2007 edition.

OTHER NOTEWORTHY POLITICAL DEVELOPMENTS¹³

April 15, 2007: Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr withdrew his 6 ministers from the Iraqi cabinet. They represented the Ministries of Health, Transportation, Tourism & Antiquities, Agriculture, Civil Society and Provincial Affairs, respectively. There are 38 total cabinet posts in the current Iraqi government.

NOTE ON THE METHODOLOGY OF THE IRAQ INDEX:

Although the footnotes to the Iraq Index document our sources in detail, it is worth noting here a few broad points. The majority of our information comes from the U.S. Government, though we must often analyze it and process it further to show trends over the full period since Saddam Hussein fell in 2003. Some information comes from foreign journalists on the ground and from nongovernmental organizations; a very modest amount to date comes from Iraqi sources. Most tables and charts are straightforward representations of data as we obtain it from the above primary sources, with only modest further analysis and processing required. However, a few graphics, such as those on crime and unemployment rates, require more methodological work (and more assumptions) on our part—and are as a result also perhaps somewhat less precise than most of the tables and charts.

SECURITY INDICATORS

U.S. TROOP FATALITIES SINCE MARCH 19, 2003¹⁴

Total from March 19, 2003 (start of major combat operations) through April 29, 2007:

Fatalities (all kinds): 3,342
 Fatalities in hostile incidents: 2,716
 Fatalities in non-hostile incidents: 626

* In order to determine the monthly fatalities from hostile incidents, subtract the blue data point from the corresponding yellow data point.

NOTE ON U.S. TROOP FATALITIES SINCE MARCH 19, 2003 TABLE:

The daily Department of Defense casualty reports that we use for our monthly estimates on U.S troops killed doesn't make entirely clear when in a 24 hour period casualties were incurred. Since the reports are published 10 AM daily, there is the possibility that our numbers for January 2005 and onwards are slightly off due to uncertainties about whether casualties occurred on the first and last day of each month. We have chosen to interpret the numbers in the casualty report as representing fatalities that occurred throughout the previous day. Total fatalities include seven civilians working for the Department of Defense.

U.S. TROOPS WOUNDED IN ACTION SINCE MARCH 2003¹⁹

Total from March 19, 2003 through April 29, 2007: 24,912

The daily Department of Defense casualty reports that we use for our monthly estimates on U.S troops wounded does not make it entirely clear when in a 24-hour period casualties were incurred. Since the reports are published at 10AM daily, there is possibility that our numbers for January 2005 and onwards are slightly off due to uncertainties about whether casualties occurred on the first or the last of each month.

IRAQI MILITARY & POLICE KILLED MONTHLY²³

Total June 2003 through April 29, 2007: 6,547

1,300 Iraqi military and police were killed between June 2003 and January 4, 2005 according to Iraqi Minister of Interior Falah Hasan Al-Naqib. "Iraqi Officers, Police Members Killed so Far Total 1,300," Kuwait News Agency (KUNA) January 4, 2005. Maj. Gen. Joseph Peterson, the top American police trainer in Iraq, noted through his spokesperson that 1,497 Iraqi police officers were killed and 3,256 wounded in 2005. Eric Schmitt, "2,000 More MPs Will Help Train the Iraqi Police," New York Times, January 16, 2006.

CAR BOMBS IN IRAQ (LETHAL AND NON-LETHAL)²⁴

NOTE ON CAR BOMBS IN IRAQ CHART: Because we are no longer receiving useful data on the number of car bombs in Iraq, this table will be discontinued. Many of the existing numbers are estimates. Please see footnote for details.

IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED BY US TROOPS²⁵

2005	Average of 7 per week
January 2006	4 per week
August 2006	1 per week

NOTE ON IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED BY US TROOPS: The military has recently announced that an average of one Iraqi civilian per day was killed in “escalation of force” incidents alone in 2005. Josh White, Charles Lane and Julie Tate, “Homicide Charges Rare in Iraq War; Few Troops Tried for Killing Civilians,” Washington Post, August 28, 2006.

IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED BY VIOLENCE

MAY 2003–DECEMBER 2005 (Does Not Include Murders)

JANUARY 2006 – PRESENT (All Violent Causes)²⁶

NOTE ON “IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED” TABLES:

Information for May 2003–December 2005 is based upon data from Iraq Body Count. We do not include entries recorded at the morgue (to avoid double-counting) or those which clearly involve the death of Iraqi police, police recruits, or Iraq Civil Defense Forces (in an attempt to index only civilians killed by acts of war. IBC itself removes military personnel.) The data shown in the chart are 1.75 times our IBC-based numbers, reflecting the fact that estimates for civilian casualties from the Iraqi Ministry of the Interior were 75 percent higher than those of our Iraq Body Count-based estimate over the aggregate May 2003 – December 2005 period.²⁷ During this time, we separately studied the crime rate in Iraq, and on that basis estimated 23,000 murders throughout the country.

Starting in 2006, we have found it is no longer practical to differentiate between acts of war and crime. Our estimates since January 2006 are based upon the numbers published in the UN Assistance Mission for Iraq, “Human Rights Report: 1 May–30 June, 2006” and subsequent reports. This data combines the Iraq Ministry of Health’s tally of deaths counted at hospitals with the Baghdad Medico-Legal Institute’s tally of deaths counted at morgues. As a point of comparison between the two charts, we have found that the numbers we present for 2006 based on the UN (which include crime) are approximately twice what the estimates would be using the our methodology for the IBC data (not including crime) for the same time period.

ESTIMATES OF IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED BY VIOLENCE:

These numbers do not include Iraqi civilians killed during major combat operations March 19, 2003–April 30, 2003.

MULTIPLE FATALITY BOMBINGS²⁸

Total as of April 29, 2007: 1,358 (of which at least 475 (35.0%) were suicide bombings)

KILLED AND WOUNDED IN MULTIPLE FATALITY BOMBINGS²⁹

Total as of April 29, 2007:

Killed: 12,221

Wounded: 25,364

NOTE ON MULTIPLE FATALITY BOMBINGS AND KILLED AND WOUNDED IN MULTIPLE FATALITY BOMBINGS TABLES: Included as data for these graphs are any bombings (including IEDs / roadside bombs) that caused at least three fatalities. The data on multiple fatality IED / roadside bombs are estimates and may have a margin of error of +/- one bomb and approximately five fatalities and five wounded.

This data has NOT been filtered by the authors in the same way as the Iraq Body Count data discussed in Iraqi Civilians Killed by Violence.

NON-IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED SINCE MAY 2003³⁰

Total through April 29, 2007: 472

NOTE ON NON-IRAQI CIVILIANS KILLED IN IRAQ: Total includes two contractors whose dates of death are unknown at this time and are thus not included on the above chart. This list is incomplete and does not include an additional 44 contractors that were killed up until December 31, 2004. Since we do not know during which month these deaths occurred they are not represented in the graph above.

As of March, 2005, there were more than 20,000 foreign (non-Iraqi) private military contractors in Iraq. 6,000 of these are in armed tactical roles. Peter W. Singer, "Outsourcing War," Foreign Affairs, March 2005.

IRAQIS KIDNAPPED³⁵

January 2004	2 per day in Baghdad
December 2004	10 per day in Baghdad
December 2005	Up to 30 per day nationwide
March 2006	30-40 per day nationwide

NOTE ON IRAQIS KIDNAPPED TABLE: The numbers on this table may be lower than the actual number of kidnappings as the Iraqi Police suggests wide underreporting. Ellen Knickmeyer and Jonathon Finer, "In Iraq, 425 Foreigners Estimated Kidnapped Since 2003," Washington Post, December 25, 2005. The Iraqi Interior Ministry estimates that 5,000 Iraqis were kidnapped nationwide between December 2003 and April 2005 (Haifa Zangana, "Blair Made a Pledge to Iraqis Once," The Guardian, April 22, 2005). According to Assad Abboud, "Iraq's Forgotten Kidnap Victims Suffer in Silence," Agence France Presse, March 25, 2006, the average ransom price for a kidnapped Iraqi is $30,000. The American Embassy in Baghdad estimated that 5-30 Iraqis are abducted each day, but also acknowledged the uncertainty of such a figure (Kirk Semple, "Kidnapped in Iraq: Victim's Tale of Clockwork Death and Ransom," New York Times, May 7, 2006).

NOTE ON FOREIGN NATIONALS KIDNAPPED IN IRAQ TABLE:*Developments: This category shows activity in the status of hostages, but does not necessarily apply to hostages kidnapped during the same month. Please see footnote for more information. According to the Baghdad Hostage Working Group at the US Embassy in Baghdad as cited in Erik Rye and Joon Mo Kang, "Hostages of War," New York Times, May 17, 2006, 439 foreigners have been kidnapped in Baghdad since the start of the war. These include 165 private contractors, 63 (mostly truck) drivers, 39 journalists, 23 NGO workers, and 15 diplomats/gov't employees. An Associated Press tally shows that at least 13 Americans have been kidnapped. Four have been killed, four have escaped or been freed and five are considered taken, missing, or unknown. This list may be incomplete. "The Fate of Americans Taken Hostage in Iraq," Associated Press, January 20, 2006.

NOTE ON STRENGTH OF INSURGENCY TABLE: International Crisis Group estimates that there are approximately 5,000 to 15,000 insurgents in Iraq. In Their Own Words: Reading the Iraqi Insurgency, International Crisis Group, Middle East Report N. 50, February 15, 2006. The estimated strength of Al Qaida in Iraq is more than 1,000 nationwide, although the exact number is unknown. It is presumed this includes both Iraqis and foreign fighters. Country Reports on Terrorism, United States Department of State, Office for the Coordinator for Counterterrorism, April 2006. March 2007: Estimate is of Sunni insurgents only. It comes from an analyst employed by the U.S. military and includes “hard-line operators” as well as “part-time supporters”.

NATIONALITIES OF FOREIGN MILITANTS IN IRAQ, SEPTEMBER 2005⁴⁰

NOTE ON NATIONALITIES OF FOREIGN MILITANTS GRAPH: Two other sources have cited the nationalities of non-Iraqi Jihadists (one specifying those captured, the other those killed) in Iraq, and the three reports suggest somewhat different trends. Reuven Paz cites Saudi Arabia as contributing the highest number of jihadists killed (94) from November to March, 2005, followed by Syria (16) and Kuwait (11). Reuven Paz, “Arab Volunteers Killed in Iraq: An Analysis,” Global Center for International Affairs Center (GLORIA), Occasional Papers, Volume 3 (2005), Number 1, March 2005.

U.S. MILITARY FATALITIES CAUSED BY IMPROVISED EXPLOSIVE DEVICES⁴⁸

Total through April 29, 2007: 1,260 (37.6% of all fatalities)

ADDITIONAL STATISTICS CONCERNING IED'S⁴⁹:

- *The Army reports that IED's are responsible for 80% of all soldier casualties (deaths and injuries)
- *Despite the enemy deploying twice as many IED's as a year ago, casualties have remained steady, with less than 10% causing casualties
- *This is because U.S. troops are now detecting and successfully disarming approximately 50% of IED's
- *The Pentagon is requesting an additional $6.4 billion for its Joint Improvised Explosive Device Defeat Organization (JIEDDO)
- *Explosively Formed Projectiles (EFP's), the most lethal type of IED, make up only 2% of all IED's found in Iraq but account for a "very large percentage" of U.S. soldiers killed by IED's, according to Col. Barry Shoop, chief scientist for the JIEDDO

IMPROVISED EXPLOSIVE DEVICES (IED'S) DETONATED AND DISARMED
JANUARY – JUNE 2006

NOTE ON IMPROVISED EXPLOSIVE DEVICES: “In June, there were 1,481 I.E.D. attacks throughout Iraq, and 903 instances in which the bombs were found and neutralized, according to figures compiled by the American military in Baghdad. That is a sharp increase since January, when there were 834 such attacks and 620 cases in which the bombs were found before they exploded.”
 Michael Gordon, “A Platoon’s Mission: Seeking and Destroying Explosives in Disguise,” The New York Times, July 12, 2006.
 Numbers are author’s approximations based on data published in the New York Times.

AMERICAN MILITARY HELICOPTERS DOWNED IN IRAQ⁵²

Total through April 29, 2007: 61

NOTE ON AMERICAN MILITARY HELICOPTERS DOWNED IN IRAQ TABLE: Of the 61 helicopters downed in Iraq since May 2003, at least 32 were downed by enemy fire. Of the three January 2006 crashes, two are still being investigated. One was shot down by enemy fire and is included above. We have counted one of the others as being downed by enemy fire as well, given the available evidence. Hostile fire is suspected in the July 2006 crash, but it has not been confirmed and therefore not counted as such. November 2006 crash is still under investigation.

NOTE ON IRAQI SECURITY FORCES ON DUTY TABLE: Units in the top three levels are all operational – that is, capable of (and frequently engaged in) operations against the enemy. Units at level three are fighting alongside Coalition units. Level two units are “in the lead” – this level is the critical achievement that marks the point at which a unit can take over its own battle space. Units at level two can control their own areas of responsibility and, therefore, allow Coalition units to focus elsewhere.⁶⁴ Care should be taken when evaluating the quality of MOI forces as there have been various reports of Iraqi police units dominated by sectarian interests.

NOTE ON ETHNICITY IN THE SECURITY FORCES: 978 Sunni men, including 800 from Fallujah became the first all-Sunni class in the Iraqi army to graduate as privates from American-run basic training on May 1, 2006.⁶⁵ However, Sunnis make up less than 10 percent of the enlisted forces.⁶⁶

ENEMY-INITIATED ATTACKS AGAINST THE COALITION AND ITS PARTNERS⁶⁷

NOTE ON ENEMY-INITIATED ATTACKS TABLE: The data for 2006 does not separate attacks against Iraqi government officials from attacks against Iraqi civilians.

INDEX OF POLITICAL FREEDOM⁶⁸

Oman	4.00
Bahrain	3.85
Iran	3.85
United Arab Emirates	3.70
Saudi Arabia	2.80
Syria	2.80
Libya	2.05

NOTE ON INDEX OF POLITICAL FREEDOM TABLE: Each country is scored on a 10-point scale, with 1 being the lowest score and 10 the highest. Indicators of freedom include election of head of government, election of parliament, fairness of electoral laws, right to organize political parties, power of elected representatives, presence of an opposition, transparency, minority participation, level of corruption, freedom of assembly, independence of the judiciary, press freedom, religious freedom, rule of law and property rights.

INDEX OF PRESS FREEDOM⁶⁹

165	Cuba	95.0
166	Eritrea	97.5
167	Turkmenistan	98.5
168	North Korea	109.0

NOTE ON INDEX OF PRESS FREEDOM TABLE: The Index rated 168 countries based on a questionnaire with 50 criteria for assessing the state of press freedom in each country. It includes every kind of violation directly affecting journalists (such as murders, imprisonment, physical attacks and threats) and news media (censorship, confiscation issues, searches and harassment). In addition to taking into account abuses attributable to the state, those carried out by armed militias, clandestine organizations or pressure groups are also considered.

The lower the score attained, the higher the degree of press freedom in that respective country. Although there is no specific information given regarding how the overall score was compiled, the top-rated countries (Finland, Iceland, Ireland and the Netherlands) received an overall score of 0.50, with the median (Liberia) receiving a score of 19.0. The overall average score for the Index was 27.2.

NOTE ON NATIONWIDE UNEMPLOYMENT TABLE: Estimates of Iraq’s unemployment rate varies, but we estimate it to be between 25-40%. The CPA has referred to a 25% unemployment rate, the Iraqi Ministry of Planning mentioned a 30% unemployment rate, whereas the Iraqi Ministry of Social Affairs claims it to be 48%. “Reconstructing Iraq,” International Crisis Group, Report, September 2, 2004, p. 16, footnote 157. There is an inherent difficulty in measuring the Iraqi rate of unemployment over time. Because recent estimates are likely to be more accurate than older ones, but also higher, this means that despite an improvement in the economic situation nationwide, the numbers give the impression that it is getting worse. Considering the increase in entrepreneurial activity after the end of the war, we have for the purposes of this database assumed that there has been an improvement in unemployment levels, and hence weighted information supporting such a conclusion heavier than contradictory data reports. AMERICAN AID APPROPRIATED, OBLIGATED AND DISBURSED TOWARDS THE IRAQ RELIEF AND RECONSTRUCTION FUND (IRRF I & II)⁹³

NOTE: As of April 24, 2007. An ‘appropriation’ is defined as a plan, approved by the Office of Management and Budget, to spend resources provided by law. Quarterly Update to Congress: 2207 Report, October 2004. An ‘obligation’ can be defined as “a definite commitment which creates a legal liability of the Government for the payment of appropriated funds for goods and services ordered or received.” GAO/OGC-91-5: Principles of Federal Appropriations Law, Office of the General Council, July 1991. A ‘disbursement’ is an actual payment (check goes out the door) for goods/services received. GAO-04-902 R: Rebuilding Iraq, General Accounting Office, June 2004.

NOTES ON PLEDGES OF RECONSTRUCTION AID TABLE: The World Bank, United Nations and CPA estimated Iraq will need $56 billion for reconstruction and stabilization efforts from 2004 to 2007, but that estimate is probably too low.⁹⁵ UPDATE ON 2003 MADRID CONFERENCE PLEDGES: Of the $13.5 billion pledged by donors other than the United States, $3.2 billion has been disbursed as of December 2005. * = between zero and $500 million.

a. At the current rate of military operations, the funding provided to date in 2007 will not be sufficient to pay for all costs that will be incurred this fiscal year. Consequently, additional appropriations will probably be provided in 2007.

b. The Congressional Budget Office estimated funding provided for Operation Iraqi Freedom by allocating funds on the basis of obligations reported by the Department of Defense (DoD). For more information about funding for Operation Iraqi Freedom, see Congressional Budget Office, Estimated Costs of U.S. Operations in Iraq Under Two Specified Scenarios (July 13, 2006).

c. Includes Operation Enduring Freedom (involving operations in and around Afghanistan), Operation Noble Eagle (for homeland security missions, such as combat air patrols, in the United States), the restructuring of Army and Marine Corps units, classified activities other than those funded by appropriations for the Iraq Freedom Fund, and other operations. (For fiscal years 2005 through 2007, funding for Operation Noble Eagle has been intermingled with regular appropriations for the Department of Defense; that funding is not included in this table because it cannot be identified separately.)

d. Funding for indigenous security forces, which was appropriated in accounts for diplomatic operations and foreign aid (budget function 150) in 2004 and in accounts for defense (budget function 050) since 2005, is used to train and equip local military and police units in Iraq and Afghanistan.

From February 2005 to the present, our source differentiates between the terminology "trained and equipped" for police, in which unauthorized absences personnel are included, and "operational" for the National Guard and Armed Forces, in which unauthorized absences personnel are not included. As many as 5,000 recruits from Sunni areas have joined the Iraqi Armed Forces in the past several months. National Strategy for Victory in Iraq, National Security Council, November 2005, page 21.
- ⁵⁷ Author's estimate based on Bradley Graham, "Rumsfeld Defends Iraqi Forces," Washington Post, October 1, 2005, in which Graham lists 36 out of 116 army and special police battalions at Level 2 readiness. This percentage was used to estimate the number of number of troops.

- ⁵⁹ October 2005 numbers are according to Lt. Gen. David Petraeus, speech at the St. Regis Hotel, Washington, DC, November 7, 2005. The statistic of 32,000 in level I and II readiness is based upon Petraeus citation of 40 so prepared battalions and author's assumption that one battalion equals approximately 750 to 800 troops. Petraeus also stated that the number of 211,000 total Iraqi Security Forces is headed towards 325,000. Iraqi Security Forces have 20,000 vehicles in all, although the number of well-armored vehicles is much lower (author's estimate: about 300).

Face-to-face interviews conducted among a national random sample of 1,000 Iraqi adults 18 years and older. An over sample of 150 Iraqi Sunni Arabs from predominantly Sunni Arab provinces (Anbar, Diyala and Salah Al-Din) was carried out to provide additional precision with this group. The total sample thus was 1,150 Iraqi adults. The data were weighted to the following targets (Shia Arab, 55%, Sunni Arab 22%, Kurd 18%, other 5%) in order to properly represent the Iraqi ethnic/religious communities. The sample design was a multi-stage area probability sample conducted in all 18 Iraqi provinces including Baghdad. Urban and rural areas were proportionally represented. A 94% contact rate and 74% completion rate were achieved.
