

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
ONE
First Steps	5
TWO
Graduate Studies	28
A Double Miracle
THREE
Immersion	38
Daily Life in Khrushchev's Russia
FOUR
Expulsion	69
Cultural Trends, Literary Friends, and the Sharp Edges of the Soviet State
FIVE
The Emergence of Dissent	103
Bringing Dissidents and the Emerging Human Rights Movement to the World's Attention
SIX
The Other '68	120
Upheaval in the Soviet Bloc and the Chronicle of Current Events
SEVEN
Two Early Giants of Soviet Dissent	132
Marchenko and Grigorenko

EIGHT
Confronting the Naysayers in the West	150
NINE
“The Mental State of Such People Is Not Normal”	164
Exposing the Political Abuse of Psychiatry
TEN
Dignity under Persecution	185
Dissent among the Ethnic Minorities
ELEVEN
Religious Persecution, Religious Dissent	196
TWELVE
Fighting on Old and New Fronts	203
1968 to 1983
THIRTEEN
Publishing Samizdat in the West	215
FOURTEEN
Dissent and Reform under Gorbachev	220
Uncertain Terrain
FIFTEEN
Upending Manufactured Schizophrenia	242
SIXTEEN
The End: RIP USSR, 1917 to 1991	257
Some Conclusions	289
Works by Peter Reddaway Cited in This Volume, by Year	295
Notes	301
Subject Index	319
Names Index	329