

Help Brookings meet the challenges of tomorrow

The Isabel January Society is named in honor of Isabel Vallé January Brookings who, in addition to supporting Brookings during her lifetime, bequeathed the majority of her estate to help ensure the long-term sustainability of the Institution.

Her gift, made on the eve of the Institution's 50th anniversary, helped solidify the financial foundation that would enable Brookings to serve as the preeminent resource for solving the world's most pressing challenges.

To ensure that Brookings can continue to play this critical role, we invite you to join Isabel's vision by including the Institution in your estate plans.

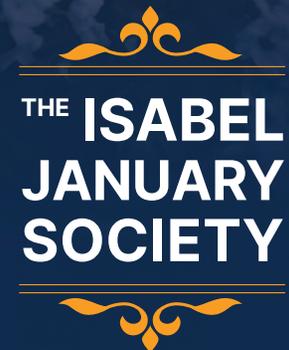

BROOKINGS

THE ISABEL JANUARY SOCIETY

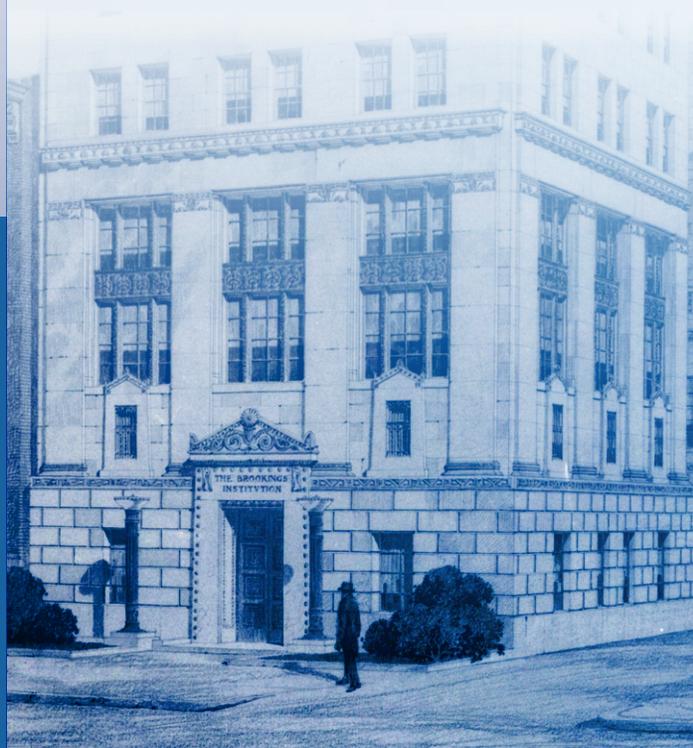

The Isabel January Society brings together generous donors who have included a provision for Brookings in their estate plans in any amount. January Society members play a vital role in securing the Institution's future and become part of its storied history of impact.

Members of the January Society receive invitations to exclusive Brookings events and programs, including an annual event with the President of Brookings.

It is easy to arrange a gift to Brookings. Your bequest or beneficiary provision can be used for where the need is greatest or designated to a specific purpose or activity. We encourage you to discuss your intentions with your financial advisor, who can help you determine the best way to accomplish your philanthropic goals.

Since its founding in 1916, Brookings has brought the public cutting-edge, independent research and analysis that is firmly grounded in facts. This work remains vital as the world forges ahead to tackle racial injustice, climate change, economic instability, challenges to democracy, and the issues of tomorrow.

If you would like more information on joining the Isabel January Society or if you have already included us in your estate plans but haven't let us know, please contact:
