

Jamie P. Horsley

CURRENT POSITIONS

Senior Fellow. The Paul Tsai China Center. Yale Law School. August 2016 -

Nonresident Senior Fellow. John L. Thornton China Center. The Brookings Institution. September 2022 –

FORMER POSITIONS

Visiting Fellow. John L. Thornton China Center. The Brookings Institution. September 2016 – August 2022.

Fellow. Kissinger Institute on China and the United States. The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars
September 2015 – June 2016.

Executive Director. The Paul Tsai China Center. Yale Law School.
April 2002 – July 2016.

Consultant. China Village Election Project. The Carter Center.
January 1999 -- March 2002.

Vice President. Motorola International, Inc. and Corporate Director – Government Relations – China. Motorola, Inc.
October 1995 – December 1998.

Commercial Attaché & First Secretary. U.S. Embassy Beijing, China.
November 1993 – September 1995.

Commercial Attaché & First Secretary. U.S. Embassy Manila, The Philippines.
November 1991 – 1993.

Partner. Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison.
July 1986 – August 1991.

Associate Attorney. Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison.
October 1981- July 1986.

Associate Attorney. Brobeck, Phleger & Harrison.
August 1978 – September 1981.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS AND AFFILIATIONS

Trustee, Yale-China Association. 2019 –

Member, National Committee for US-China Relations.

Director, National Committee for US-China Relations. 2001-2009.

EDUCATION

Harvard Law School, J.D, 1978

University of Michigan, M.A., in Chinese Studies, 1975

Stanford University, B.A. in Anthropology, 1972

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

“Under Coal’s Shadow, China is Accelerating its Carbon Mitigation Effort,” Brookings Commentary: How is China’s domestic situation evolving?, July 17, 2024.

“An Overview of China’s State Council Major Decision-making Regulations,” China Law Translate (April 29, 2024), and accompanying Translation: State Council Interim Regulations on Major Administrative Decision-making Procedures.

“The Cyberspace Administration of China: A Portrait,” with Rogier Creemers, in The Emergence of China’s Smart State, Rogier Creemers, Straton Papagiannas and Adam Knight, eds. (The Rowman & Littlefield Publishing Group, Inc., 2024).

“What is the State of the Chinese State,” The Diplomat (September 20, 2023).

“Further Observations on the Second Draft Revision of the Administrative Reconsideration Law,” China Law Translate (August 10, 2023)

“Observations on the First Draft Revision of the Administrative Reconsideration Law,” China Law Translate (January 23, 2023).

“CAC Moves to Enhance and Legitimize Its Cyberspace Enforcement Authority,” DigiChina, November 20, 2022.

“Translation: Provisions on Procedures for Administrative Law Enforcement by Cyberspace Departments (Draft for Comment),” DigiChina, November 20, 2022.

“Behind the Facade of China’s Cyber Super-Regulator: What we think we know—and what we don’t—about the Cyberspace Administration of China,” DigiChina (August 8, 2022).

“It’s Time for a New Policy on Confucius Institutes” Lawfare (April 1, 2021)

“How will China’s privacy law apply to the Chinese state?” New America (January 26, 2021)

“Revitalizing Law and Governance Collaboration with China,” Yale Law School Paul Tsai China Center and Brookings Institution John L. Thornton China Center (November 17, 2020)

“Join the China-initiated Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank,” Brookings Order from Chaos, A list of specific, actionable foreign policy ideas for the next president (October 27, 2020)

“Let’s end the COVID-19 Blame Game: Reconsidering China’s role in the pandemic,” Brookings Order from Chaos (August 19, 2020)

“Explainer: Judicial interpretation requires government leaders to defend lawsuits in person,” China Law Translate (July 6, 2020)

“Chinese law requires public consultation in lawmaking: What does that mean for the Hong Kong national security legislation?” Brookings Order from Chaos (June 8 2020)

“Party leadership and rule of law in the Xi Jinping era,” Brookings Institution Global China Initiative (September 2019)

"Open Government Developments in China: Implications for US Businesses," China Business Review (July 1, 2019)

"Transparency, Accountability, and Access to Information," in Handbook on Human Rights in China, Sara Biddulph and Joshua Rosenzweig, eds. (Edward Elgar Publishing, 2019).

"A Primer on How Chinese Law Might Enforce a US-China Trade Deal," Brookings Order from Chaos (May 15, 2019).

"China's Central Government Seeks to Rein in Regulatory Documents," The Regulatory Review (May 7, 2019)

"Can China Deliver a Better Belt and Road?" Foreign Policy (April 22, 2019)

"China's Orwellian Social Credit Score Isn't Real." Foreign Policy (November 16, 2018)

"What's So Controversial About China's New Anti-Corruption Body?" The Diplomat (May 30, 2018)

"China Implements More Participatory Rulemaking Under Communist Party," The Regulatory Review (March 15, 2018)

"The Chinese Communist Party's Experiment with Transparency: Unpacking the CCP's new regulations on 'open party affairs'," The Diplomat (February 1, 2018)

"Will engaging China promote good governance?" Strategy Paper, John L. Thornton China Center, Brookings Institute (January 2017)